CONDITIONS FOR COPYING MATERIALS

1. Copies are made as time permits. Please allow up to 30 days for processing large orders and longer for orders that must be handled by an off-campus vendor.
2. In order to ensure the long-term preservation of the rare and unique resources entrusted to its care, we reserve the right to limit the number of copies made, to select the method of reproduction, and to decline to make copies of especially fragile or important items.
3. Permission to examine and copy materials does not constitute permission to publish or to make use of the copies in an exhibit or for commercial purposes. With the exception of works in the public domain, any use in excess of fair use requires prior authorization by the copyright holder. In those cases where the University holds the copyright, permission may be requested from the J. Murrey Atkins Library Associate Dean for Special Collections and University Archives.
4. In the case of publication, exhibition, or commercial use, we ask that proper acknowledgement be made regarding ownership of the original by J. Murrey Atkins Library, The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Citation style will vary depending upon the style guide being used, but the following can serve as a basic reference:
 - Archives and manuscripts: [Title of collection or record group], [number of collection or record group], [series and/or folder titles if appropriate], J. Murrey Atkins Library Special Collections and University Archives, University of North Carolina at Charlotte.
 - Oral history interviews: [Title of interview], [date of interview], J. Murrey Atkins Library Special Collections and University Archives, University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproductions. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement unless they obtain permission from the copyright holder or the item is in the public domain. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright laws.

I request copies of the materials listed above and agree to handle them in accordance with all conditions specified on this form. I accept full responsibility for any copyright infringement or other legal issues that may arise from making or using these copies, and agree to indemnify UNC Charlotte if any copyright infringement or other legal action is brought against it in connection with my use of these materials.
